Dear Sir

When in Philadelphia latter part of August 1890 I was well entertained and learned considerable of interest to me as a coin "Crank" in your Specimen Coin Dept. I have one of your history of Coinage, & the Mint — but do not find whether Dollar of 1795 in good Condition are rare or Valuable.

will you please grant information

I will not bother you again —

Yours Truly

The dollars of 1794, in ordinary Condition, are worth very little more than face value.

If very little worn, about $2.00.

If uncirculated, about $10.00
